Many Get Services At A.M.A. Offices

Motorists are urged to avail themselves of the varied services available at branches of the Alberta Motor Association. These services are highly appreciated by members of the organization resulting in the association making a steady increase each year in membership.

There are numerous inquiries for maps or sectional maps, giving motorists the latest official information on roads in various districts.

Routing for summer holiday trips also are sought and these are readily supplied by AMA officers.

The AMA also has official appointments in practically all sections of the province, prepared to serve motorists. Its services have been widely commended. It is evident that the association fighting at all times in the interest of a better deal for the car owner is growing in strength and popularity.

Reconstruction Canada's Opportunity

Bishop Arne Fjellbu is a great rock of a man. The wind and ice of his northern homeland have lined and weathered his face like a jutting cliff of a Norwegian fjord. When he thunders "No," there is a strength and finality about it that many a Nazi has learned to respect. Beneath his rugged and towering exterior, there is a smouldering fire which flares up unexpectedly and as suddenly turns to crackling humor.

In an interview published recently, Bishop Fjellbu describes how the Norwegian Church inspired and led the united resistance to the Nazi occupation. He and his wife were ordered to a concentration camp by the Quisling police but escaped across the border to Sweden.

The Bishop, in concluding, challenges the church to take the lead in reconstruction:

"I am quite sure that the Oxford Group has given our Norwegian Church a good part of the spiritual life and force which has made the Church able for the struggle. It has taught us to share and get together in quite a new way. So when the Germans came, we all united to fight them and stopped our quarrels with each other.

"We have been fighting more than an armed enemy. We have been fighting a godless materialism. The opposition comes from those who refuse to accept Christian moral standards. The Church has led our people's fight, and now speaks for the nation. The Oxford Group came to us as John the Baptist and called us to fight evil.

"I have told several statements that we need John the Baptists today. We must not have illusions about the future. A lot of those leading nations are secularizing all of life. The moral standard of today is very low. In occupied countries we see how war has disturbed the moral life.

"In such days we must tell the leaders and the people that unless there is a change of heart in us all the world will go direct to hell. And if in politics those who try to govern do it without morals, they will go to hell with the whole of civilization. This moral war must be won."

AT THE CHURCHES

Combined Summer Services To Be Held

August 12th and 19th.

Members and adherents of St. Andrew's Presbyterian and the United Church, Wainwright, are asked to kindly note that United Services of worship will be held Sunday, August 12th and 19th as follows:

11:00—The United Church.

7:30—St. Andrew's Church.

The evening sermon will be in the form of a Short Sermonette based upon a favorite hymn of the Church.

Rev. A. R. Hancock of St. Andrew's will preach at these United Services.

Home Again

"If we know our boys," said a great many people in this country, "the first thing they'll want when they get discharged is a long holiday—about three months. They'll act just like kids getting out of school. They will want to lounge around, doing nothing but eat, sleep and loaf, with no crotchety sergeants or brass hats to salute."

As a matter of fact, this generally holds good—but not for any three months, according to figures in possession of the Rehabilitation Information Committee. For the first couple of weeks after he gets that all-important slip of paper which informs him and sundry that the undersigned is no longer a member of the active forces of his country, the repatriated veteran enjoys life to the full, with little thought for the future. He sees his wife, children, mother or sweetheart that he's only known in his dreams for so long. He drops into the drug store for the old familiar chocolate malted, hangs around the ball park playing catch. He gets out the old casting rod and goes fishing. In short, he does everything he has wanted to do for a long time.

But then he realizes that all these things used to be fun because there was a gang of his old friends to work and play with. Now all his old pals are working long hours, or waiting on the other side for their turn to be repatriated.

Loafing doesn't seem as enjoyable as he thought it would be. Something seems to be lacking. Soon, it all begins to pall. And so he decides that he has to take the plunge back to a civilian job.

Statistics compiled by veterans welfare officers from coast to coast show that about 40 per cent of the veterans soon decide to go back to the job that is waiting for them whether in their own business, the place they left to join up, or on their own farm. The next 20 to 25 per cent say "Okay, I'm back. How about a new job?" Another 20 to 25 per cent expresses the desire to take some vocational or university training before settling down.

Veterans are being discharged from the services at the rate of 30,000 a month, but the measures drawn up by the government to help them re-establish themselves are operating with all possible smoothness. There were a few complaints, however. Some of the men grumble at regulations governing the securing of land, they complain because gratuity checks sometimes do not come in when they are supposed to. Often they do not think they have been given the right jobs or they feel that the occasional official has given them a bad steer.

For such a big programme, however, the number of real complaints is surprisingly few. The Department of Veterans Affairs and National Employment Services offices all across Canada are getting ready to handle an ever-increasing influx of men returning home. Day by day they are helping the veteran to overcome the problems of civvy street that he meets on his return.

Searle Precipitation

Report No. 12

Once again there has been a slight decline during the past week in the total moisture condition of the three Prairie Provinces. The condition for the prairies, as a whole, now stands at 86.3% of normal, compared with 86.9% last week and 95% at this time a year ago.

The total condition for Alberta is now 79% of normal, compared with 79% last week and 95% at this time a year ago. For Saskatchewan the total moisture condition is now 83% of normal, compared with 87% last week and 96.4% a year ago. For Manitoba the total moisture condition is now 114% of normal, compared with 112% last week and 114.5% at this time a year ago.

The precipitation which has occurred during this growing season from April 1st to July 30th has been in Alberta considerably less than normal in Crop Districts 10, 11 and 14, and somewhat less than normal in all the other Crop Districts with the exception of 2 and 4, which have received normal rainfall.

In general it can be said that the yield per acre finally harvested is in close relationship to the total rainfall as compared with the normal or longtime average.

Britain—Our Farmers Largest Market

Britain constitutes the largest market for our prairie farmers. Anything that happens in Britain, therefore, and which affects Britain's exports and imports, will have a direct effect on the welfare of our farmers. I have studied carefully the avowed set-out policies of the new British Labour-Socialist Government, and it seems to me that these tend much more towards "Self-sufficiency" than to increased International Trade. Yet the British people depend for their very existence on greatly increasing their exports so that they can continue to purchase the large quantities of Canadian wheat and flour, livestock products and other materials which they must have in order to live. It is to be hoped, therefore, that as the new British Government assumes responsibility and obtains a clearer picture of Britain's real needs, they will discard some of their "Self-sufficiency Protectionist" ideas and will adopt the only possible means that will assist Britain, and incidentally Canada, which is a greater freedom of trade managed more by Free Enterprise, and less by Government controls and Government monopolies. At all events what happens in Britain will be well worthwhile watching and studying by our prairie farmers and their friends.

One of the smallest U.S. Durum heat crops on record—forecast at 27,217,000 bushels—plus the size of the overseas demand, is expected to cut U.S. domestic supply prospects. Egypt's wheat crop is estimated at 42,439,000 bushels, and while considerably larger than last year's crop it is still below average.

Crop reports from Argentina have been more favourable since the recent rains—The United Kingdom wheat acreage goal for 1946 is set at 2,500,000 acres, compared with 2,355,000 acres sown this season—Since the breaking of the drought in Australia, wheat seedlings have increased considerably and officials believe that a crop of 160 million bushels is possible.

See Big Saving In Pension Offer

Alberta would save an estimated $465,000 over its present costs of old age pensions under the scheme outlined at Ottawa whereby the dominion would bear the whole cost for those over 70 years, it was unofficially estimated Monday.

The dominion's announced plan is to pay $30 per month to all persons 70 years or over, regardless of their incomes.

A report from Ottawa says that this will mean, so far as Alberta is concerned, that the dominion will pay $12,500,000 per year and the province $1,000,000 which would be its 50-60 share of old age pensioners between 65 and 70.

Under the provincial government estimates for the 1945-46 fiscal year, total old age pension costs were put at $4,395,200, while reimbursements were estimated at $2,900,000 leaving a net cost to the province of $1,495,200.

Hitherto, the dominion has provided 75 percent of old age pension costs, with the province providing 15 percent and municipalities 10 percent.

The federal plan should mean that Edmonton and other cities, towns and municipalities in the province which have been contributing to the costs of old age pensioners will be saved this outlay each year.

Old age pensioners have been entitled to receive a federal pension of $35 per month while Alberta has supplemented this with a $5 cost of living bonus, making the amount $40 per month. The cost to the province of this bonus has been $730,000 a year.

E. C. Fisher, president of the Alberta Pensioners' society, said Monday that the dominion plan was a step in the right direction. One advantage was that it meant the $30 pension plan would be on a permanent basis. When the federal pension was increased from $20 to $25 per month, it was stated at the time to be a war measure.

Mr. Fisher also stated that the new plan would mean the elimination of the "means" test.

A Royal Commission has been formed to investigate and report on possible arrangements with provinces, employers and trade unions to make full use of trade training received by men and women while in the armed forces.

The Road Ahead

A Column For Service People

"The Small Holding on the edge of town is one of the best measures I have seen for helping returning veterans," writes the Mayor of a small town in British Columbia. "But I'd like to know what happens to the property if the veteran decides to move? If a civilian buys it from him, what terms would be satisfactory to the Government? What guarantee has the veteran that his taxes will not go up? Being a returned man from the last war myself, I'm interested in these matters."

Well, Mr. Mayor, you've asked three good questions and I'll try to answer them in the same order. But first, there's one thing which must be straightened out—until the veteran has lived on the small holding for ten years and satisfactorily completed the terms of the contract, he has no title to the land at all. Before a veteran is settled on a small holding the Veterans' Land Act people try and make sure that he's there to stay.

But suppose something unforeseen does happen and he has to leave in less than ten years. Since this has actually not happened yet, no clear policy on this line has so far been settled. If he wants to leave for good, however, the VLA takes over, sells the property, and if they obtain more than what it originally cost them, they will usually donate the balance to the veteran. If he wanted just to rent it, or sell it and take another small holding somewhere else, it is difficult to say at this time what course would be pursued by the directors of the VLA.

Re the taxes—nothing can be done to keep them the same. The land, chosen for small holding sites, however, is usually located in sections which, in the opinion of local business and real estate men, should not normally have a tax increase.

"I expect to remain in the Army after the war," declares a Saskatchewan veteran, "Will I be eligible for a farm under the Veterans' Land Act?" No, because under the law a veteran has to be a full time farmer before he can obtain a farm on VLA terms, and if you are in the army this will be obviously impossible. If you could be sure that you're going to be located permanently in one place, you might get a small holding. But at that it would be difficult, since you would normally have no guarantee of this.

"My husband and I are both World War II veterans," writes an ex-Wren from North Bay, Ontario. "After five years overseas, he expects to get his discharge from the RCAMC this August, while I have been out since January. We'd like to start an antique shop, but the money we've both saved, plus our combined gratuities, is not quite enough. If we could combine our re-establishment credits everything would be lovely. I've heard this is not allowed. Would an exception be made in our case?" Yes, an exception would be made in your case, I'm happy to say. A man and his wife are the only veterans who are allowed to combine re-establishment credits to start a business. Good luck to you both.

Set $600,000,000 For Social Plans

The federal government proposes to spend on its new social program about $600,000,000 annually. That is a lot more than average pre-war annual over-all budget for Canada.

In being and proposed, the tally in costs is:

Family allowances (net) $200,000,000
Unemployment insurance $200,000,000
Health insurance and grants 165,000,000
Old age pensions 217,000,000

In the case of family allowances the figures represent estimated net cost after income tax reductions are offset. In old age pensions a certain amount, not estimated, will be recovered in the case of persons receiving the pension who are within income tax brackets.

Roughly three-fifths of the cost of health insurance and grants comes from the federal treasury, the rest from the provinces. The federal government wants to make both health insurance and old age pensions contributory.

The figure for unemployment insurance represents the federal contribution and cost of administration. Employees and employers also contribute.

First DDT For Use Of Farmers

Canadian farmers are among the first civilians in the world to have the opportunity of buying DDT insecticide for use in insect control the agricultural department reports.

Until recently it has been restricted to military use in controlling lice, mosquitoes, flies and other disease carrying insects. Priority is given to the use of DDT in the form of a barn spray.

The department warns that it should not be sprayed into the air as is the ordinary fly spray.

It should be applied to walls, ceilings and other surfaces in fairly coarse spray, sufficient to wet the surface, without allowing too much to run off. One gal. is sufficient to treat about 1500 sq. ft., and a portable compressed air sprayer is satisfactory. Dry deposit of DDT left after the liquid carrier has evaporated may continue to kill flies and mosquitoes that come in contact with it for several weeks after the application.

Miss Verne Rowe Entertained At Shower

Mrs. L. Myggland entertained at her home on Thursday afternoon last in honor of Miss Verne Rowe, a bride-elect of this week. About thirty guests were present and a social afternoon was spent.

Later Misses Clara Campbell and Della Christopherson presented Miss Rowe with a beautifully decorated basket of gifts for which she expressed her pleasure and thanks.

A delightful lunch was then served those present by the hostess.

Canada Must Save Meat

While final details of meat rationing are in the making, the Prices Board urges housewives to save meat in their homes. Two meatless days a week must be observed at home if Canada is to help feed Europeans, many of whom now live on less than 2000 calories a day compared to our 3300 calories.

Returning men who have seen what hunger is are all in favour of Canada rationing meat to save Europe. Our allies no longer need our arms, but they do need our food, many of the boys say.

Count de Hauteclouque, France's first ambassador to Canada, declared in Calgary recently, "France's food problems are difficult to solve unless the Allies help us. In France, there are coal miners like those at Blairmore. In a letter from France the other day, I was informed they are receiving one ounce of meat a month. War has hit the Dutch hard, too. Over nine million people, slightly less than Canada's population, are crowded into an area less than half the size of Alberta. Retreating Nazis stripped the industrial part of the country bare, and it will take years for Holland to re-establish her agriculture.

Peasants in the Balkans are gradually going back to the land, but relief shipments are still imperative while semi-starvation threatens many areas.

Meatless days at home is a good way to start shipments flowing to the stricken countries which need our help.

"Liberalism" tends to become a philosophy where people feel it is right to do what they desire rather than desire to do what's right.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. John Roland of Minburn announces the engagement of his young daughter Florence to Mr. Howard L. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Johnson of Fabyan. The wedding will take place August 9th in the United church at Minburn.

Surprise Shower For Miss Lucile Tory

A pleasant surprise was arranged in honor of Miss Lucile Tory a bride-elect of this month when Miss Frances Carroll entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her home on Thursday evening last.

A musical evening with games and contests was enjoyed by some twenty guests with novel prizes for the winners.

The guest of honor was then seated and a dainty pink and white basket of gifts trimmed with a large heart and white bells was presented to her by Misses Frances and Shirley Carroll amid a shower of confetti.

A delicious lunch was served those present at the close of the evening.

Hail Damage Around Wainwright

After all the hot weather that we have experienced in the past few weeks it is not surprising to hear of hail damage being inflicted.

From one of our local insurance agents, Mr. Carl Stafford, reports indicate that a area of hail passed east of town, about 13 miles out. Also a hail storm, hit the Green-shields area, doing damage over a widespread area.

At the farm of Roy Bros. east of town, the damage is said to have run from 10% to over 50%, the same being true of the farms of both Mr. Hedlund.

In the Green-shields district, the farms of Mr. Hans Pfluger, and Sgt. Doug. Jackson, were both badly hit, and damage is estimated as running up to 50% and maybe more.

There were other areas hit, but if the farms did not carry Hail Insurance, it is impossible to tell just the extent of the damage.

Farm Machinery For Veterans

An arrangement has been made by the federal government to the effect that returned veterans farming under The Veterans Land Act may purchase farm implements and machinery at a discount of 10 per cent of regular lines and 7 per cent on power machinery. Apparently these concessions are not extended to those veterans farming on their own account outside the Act. Some of the implement companies, however, are extending these discounts to such men and it is expected that a general policy will be arrived at by the companies, before long.

Correction On Oil Story

As reported in last week's paper, the new well on the Vale Dome is now drilling.

Wainwright is glad to be in the limelight again, after so many years of quiet operations as far as oil is concerned. If this well proves to be a producer, and we hope that it does, it will mean more wells of a similar type, being drilled here.

One fact that the Star would like to draw to its readers attention is, Mr. I. Millner was reported to have been connected with the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey in last week's edition of the paper. This is incorrect and it has been brought to our attention, by Mr. Millner that he is in no way connected with that company. The Star wishes to take this opportunity to apologize to Mr. Millner and hopes that it is forgiven for such a gross error as was made last week.

Awards totalling $600, with a special prize of $300 for an outstanding work, will be made in the second Canadian Army art competition open to all members of the service except official war artists.

Fifty-three officers and men of the torpedoed Canadian minesweeper, Guysborough, perished in the north Atlantic. After 19 hours, when a British frigate came on the scene, there were only 37 survivors.

Whey formerly used only as swine-fodder is now being employed in Canada as a source of milk sugar for the manufacture of penicillin

Donald Gunn Married In Edmonton

In St. Stephen's College chapel, which was decorated with pink and white streamers and summer flowers, the marriage of Miss Edith Fask Taylor, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Taylor, Fort Saskatchewan, to Donald Hugh Gunn took place on Friday afternoon. The Rev. A. D. Richards performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an afternoon frock of embroidered sky blue taffeta with a white hat and accessories. Her flowers were pink roses and gardenias.

The bridesmaid was Miss Doris Plum of Edson, who wore a cocoa brown frock with beige accessories and a corsage of tallman roses.

LAC Vernon L. Gregory, RCAF, was best man and the ushers were E. R. Wells of Irma, and G. C. Welsh of Edgerton.

Mrs. C. P. Briddons of Fort Saskatchewan played the wedding music.

At the reception, which was held after the ceremony at the Corona hotel, Mr. and Mrs. G. Reid of Wainwright, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, received with the bridal party. Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bride, wore a flowered grey cape dress with black and white accessories and a corsage of deep pink roses. Mrs. Reid was smart in a black ensemble with corsage of roses and fern.

Following the reception the guests sat down to a flower-decked supper table laid in white linen and centred with the wedding cake surrounded with white tulle green foliage and pink blossoms and flanked by tall ivory tapers in silver holders. White streamers extended from the white wedding bell overhead to the corners of the bride's table.

I. S. Reeds of Irma, pronounced the blessing and after supper C. P. Briddons of Fort Saskatchewan, proposed the toast to the bride.

Guests were present from Irma, Edgerton, Wainwright, Edson, Strome, Paynton, Sask., Fort Saskatchewan and Edmonton.

The young couple left to spend a honeymoon at the Pacific coast, the bride travelling in a black suit with navy and white accessories. On their return they will make their home at Irma where the bridegroom is a member of the school teaching staff.—Edmonton Bulletin

$30,000,000 Scheme Will Light Farms

Calgary—The first project of a nine-year rural electrification program which will cost $30,000,000 and will bring electricity to nearly half the farms in Alberta, will be undertaken within two weeks by the Calgary Power company when work is begun on 150 farms in the Olds district.

This as announced Saturday by F. T. Gale, superintendent of rural electrification for the company, who has just completed an intensive survey of the province to determine the areas which will first receive the power and light services.

RETURNING TROOPS

Montreal—Since the movement of the armed forces from Europe back to Canada began, following VE Day, the Canadian National Railways have carried 36,106 of these passengers on special trains out of Halifax, according to N. H. Walton, executive vice president. This is up to and including the passengers brought in by S.S. "Pastor" on June 30.

A total of 1,462 cars was required—1,014 sleepers, 180 dining cars, 66 hospital cars and 202 cars of other classes. In addition to the special trains for the accommodation of the returning forces, large numbers travelled on regular trains. Mr. Walton pointed out.

"These figures," he said, "will give some indication of the heavy movement which still continues, and of the necessity for removing cars from other services." "The men and women coming home from overseas have the priority."

Better Farmers

Just over a year ago, we drew the attention of our readers to the agricultural courses offered to farm boys and young men in the three Prairie Provinces. We emphasized the wide variety of skills that are essential to successful farming, and pointed out that while many of these can be acquired on the farm, many others are developed much better and more quickly through special training at agricultural colleges and schools. If any reader doubts this statement, let him consult a graduate of the School of Agriculture, Olds, Alberta, or one of the farm schools connected with the Universities of Saskatchewan or Manitoba.

It is significant that discussions of post-war agriculture, by government bodies, almost without exception, emphasize the necessity of increasing the facilities for training prospective farmers. Many farm organizations have expressed similar views.

The young man who decides to devote his life to scientific research, teaching or extension, must take a university degree. This usually involves Grade XI or Grade XII entrance requirement and four university terms extending from the end of September to the latter part of April. For various reasons, many farm boys will never consider enrolling in the degree course and, consequently, shorter, more practical courses are open to any farm boy 16 years or over in each of the Prairie Provinces. These shorter courses extend over two terms of about five months each.

WAINWRIGHT, WEDNESDAY AUGUST 8th, 1945

SERVICE MEN AND WOMEN NEED HELP

There is no doubt that our returning servicemen will be in need of great help, during their time of re-establishment to civil life.

In Wainwright, there is to be set up a committee of different people to give this help to any serviceman that will need guidance and help in his transition to civics. At present there is a general body, but it has been pointed out that they are only human and can't possibly do it all.

On Monday, August 13th, a meeting is to be called in the Town Hall, to set up different committees that will be necessary in the rehabilitation of our servicemen and women.

This meeting is to be a very important step in the right direction, and to make a success of it, it will require a good turnout of local towns people, and country folks alike. Anyone that has relatives in the services should be in attendance at this meeting, as it effects them as much as anybody.

At this meeting there will be different guest speakers, such as Capt. J. Harper Prowse, M.L.A., and it is hoped that Mr. Mould of Edmonton will also be in attendance. Mr. Mould is the Department of Veteran Affairs head in Edmonton and is well worth listening to.

Different committees are to be set up at this meeting and upwards of forty people are required to form all the committees that are needed.

Mr. Gordon Graham is president of the small and overworked general committee at present, with Mr. Percy Armishaw acting as his right hand man, and to say the least, they are definitely in need of help.

The task of rehabilitation and re-establishing our servicemen is going to be very heavy, and a lot of hard work is in store for any rehabilitation program if it is going to work, and heaven help us if it doesn't work.

The service personnel have endured great hardships while at home have had it comparatively easy, so it is only just and fair that now it is our turn to show some gratitude, for all the things that our boys and girls have done for us.

Don't take the attitude of "Let George Do It," as again in this case as in past ones, there just aren't enough Georges to go around, meaning that for those who do tackle the problem, it will be a lot of hard work, and there is no comfort in that fact. With EVERYBODY pitching in it should be a case of many hands make light work, so in other words, make sure that your hands are in there helping.

Be out at that meeting on Monday, August 13th, and make sure that if you are called upon to act in any way, do so with out a lot of excuses that you are too busy to give any help. Just remember that the boys and girls were not too busy to go off to war, some of them giving their own life in order that we might live in freedom and safety.

DON'T FORGET THE MEETING. Time: 8:00 p.m., date: Monday, August 13th, place: Town Hall.

The Implications of Meat Rationing
 Canadians have never been noted as people of limited horizons. We have seen the implications of events taking place outside our own country and we know that when freedom is threatened beyond our own borders it can threaten Canada, too. That is the reason that we jumped into this war with such wholehearted zeal, and that is the reason we are going to see it through until the last shot has been fired in Japan.

And that is why we are going to meet the meat rationing situation in a spirit of co-operation. It has been brought home to us, and very forcibly, too, that the people in Europe are desperately in need of all the meat we can spare.

The Lowly Spud
 And, while on the subject of rationing, it's funny, isn't it, how we can take ordinary things of life in such a casual fashion. And then, when one of these ordinary things of life is removed, they become pretty important.

At the moment I'm thinking of the lowly spud. I thought that I could take it, or leave it. But the potato shortage has developed, and I find that I prize potatoes highly.

I went home the other night, and without thinking of it, suggested to my wife that she make a dish of potato soup.

She glared at me as if I'd suggested truffles in cream, with a side dish of lark's tongues. "Do you realize," she said, "that that would take six large potatoes. We haven't even six small potatoes."

P.S.: I settled for a dish of macaroni and cheese. And very good it was, too.

Standards of Furniture
 It's always interesting to find out what our sister members of the Commonwealth are doing to meet everyday problems. I noticed the other day that the New Zealand Standards Institute recently issued a standard specification for household furniture.

Now this doesn't mean that furniture manufacturers in New Zealand will have to turn out furniture in a monotonous array that will discourage citizens who want to have individuality in the furnishing of their homes. It simply means that the specification sets minimum standards for the class and grade of timber to be used, for upholstery and other materials, for basic construction such as timber dimensions and methods of jointing, and for workmanship and finish.

These are the points which the customer cannot check by ordinary inspection, and on which he will be reassured when he buys furniture bearing the Standard Mark," says the New Zealand Consumer News.

They Shall Have Music
 The end of the war doesn't mean that the demand by troops for entertainment has diminished. As a matter of fact, it has increased. And that is why eight civilian army show units are now overseas entertaining the Canadian troops in England and also the army of occupation.

The talented entertainers come from Toronto, Montreal and Halifax. Each unit has a mixed cast of about 20.

While overseas, the entertainers are provided with army clothing. The men wear battle dress and the women in uniform. They also wear the brown shoulder straps.

CROP REPORT

General.—In the Prairie Provinces, warm weather is enabling crops to make rapid progress, but a continued absence of rain in large areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan, where moisture is already deficient, has resulted in further deterioration. Yields will be light to poor in these areas. Elsewhere conditions are satisfactory, although rains during this critical period of filling are required in many districts to maintain prospects. Heavy weed infestation will affect yields in some areas. There have been further scattered hail losses. Damage from pests is light. Pastures and hay crops vary according to moisture conditions. Sugar beets are promising.

Alberta.—In the west-central and south-western areas crops are good, but elsewhere deterioration continues from lack of moisture, with pastures poor to fair and hay crops light. In the Peace River district, hot weather is forcing crops too rapidly and unless rains are received soon yields will be seriously affected. Sugar beets and canning crops are making satisfactory progress.

Saskatchewan.—Crop conditions in the north-eastern and eastern districts are satisfactory, but in the north-western and central districts deterioration is occurring due to lack of moisture and in the south-central, south-west and west-central districts it is evident yields will be light to poor even though immediate rains received. Weed infestation is heavy, and there have been scattered hail losses. The hay crop being harvested is short where moisture is deficient.

Manitoba.—Crops are making rapid progress, with warm weather and fairly general rains maintaining promising prospects. Apart from a few areas where rain would be welcome during this critical period of filling, moisture is on the whole adequate for the present. Weeds are troublesome and, in some areas, will affect yields. There has been further scattered hail damage. Sugar beets are promising. While late, an average honey crop is in prospect.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS

Switzerland is said to require about 2.3 million bushels of imported wheat before November if her bread ration is not to be reduced. Drought is reducing the Greek cereal grain harvest considerably below early May estimates. An official estimate places Argentina's 1944-45 wheat crop at 150 million bushels, compared with 250 million bushels harvested in the previous year.

Canadian wheat experts during the past week are unofficially reported at about five million bushels, of which four million went to the United Kingdom. It is reported the U. S. A. will ship 500,000 tons of fuel oil to Argentina, in exchange for vegetable oils and flaxseed.

A Fleet at War: Two Million Troop Miles for Canadian Pacific

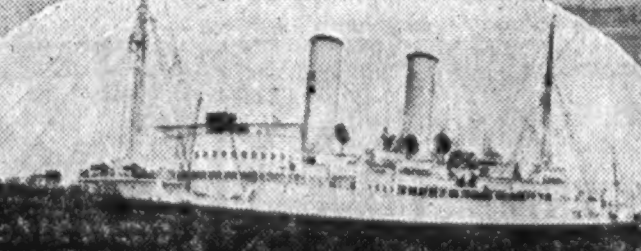

York: Victim of F.W's.

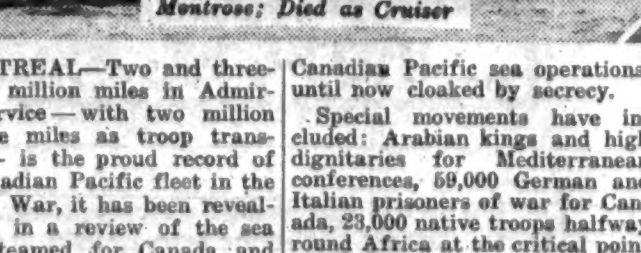

Britain: Largest Vessel Sunk

Montrose: Died as Cruiser

Beaverford: Followed Jervis Bay

MONTREAL—Two and three-quarter million miles in Admiralty service—with two million of those miles as troop transports—is the proud record of the Canadian Pacific fleet in the German War, it has been revealed here in a review of the sea miles steamed for Canada and the United Nations up to V-E Day.

These wartime voyages represent the transportation through enemy-infested waters of three-quarters of a million service personnel and civilians and of three and one-half million tons of war material and food.

The toll among seagoing personnel was 272 known killed and 155 missing or prisoners of war. Eleven vessels, of 193,000 tonnage, were sunk by the enemy while one other, the Beaverhill, was victim of a marine accident in 1944.

Vessels lost represented more than half the 336,000 gross tons made available to the Admiralty in 20 Canadian Pacific ships from Atlantic and Pacific ocean and British Columbia coast service.

Still serving in the Battle of Supply from that original allotment of 20 ships are: Three Empresses—Australia, one of three Canadian Pacific ships which shared the movement of the First Division from Halifax in December of 1939; Scotland, (renamed from Japan), flagship of all peacetime services on the Pacific; Russia, which also served in World War I; Two Duchesses—Richmond and Bedford. One Princess—Kathleen. Two Monts—Montcalm, now converted into a fleet auxiliary repair ship which might well be in a "supply train" in the mounting Battle of the Pacific; and Montclare, both under direct Admiralty operation.

Those sent to the bottom by Germans, Japs or Italians were: In 1940: The 42,500-ton Empress of Britain, largest merchant ship sunk during the war; Montrose, sailing as H.M.S. Fortia, an armed merchant cruiser, at her death; Beaverford, which took up the immortal Jervis Bay's fight in the convoy attacked by the Admiral Scheer; and Beaverburn 1941—Beaverdale and Beaverbrae. 1942—Princess Marguerite, seagoing "troop taxi" in helping line up troop dispositions for Montgomery's Alamein push; Duchess of Atholl and Empress of Asia. 1943—Duchess of York sunk by Focke-Wulf bombers off Spain; and Empress of Canada.

Conspicuous service in these actions by Canadian Pacific officers and men had resulted in the award of 74 decorations when the report was made.

Our Motto
A Home From Home

One of the best pieces of informative writing on the subject of disposing of Canada's old Air Force training planes comes from the pen of A. R. Eddie, a pilot and air engineer of 16 years' experience, who lives at Lethbridge, Alta. Writing in the Calgary Albertan, he deals with a typical case of the twin-engine Ansons used to train bomber pilots.

It was designed 10 years ago as a "feeder line aircraft" and was purchased in great numbers by the R.A.F. for training purposes, then shipped in hundreds to Canada, and more of them made here.

As at present fitted, Eddie points out, an Anson is equipped with five bucket seats, no appointments or comforts for passengers, and bang in the middle of the cabin is a large obsolescent radio. The nose carries a bombight and there are bomb bays and racks in the wings.

More important, the pilot's instrument panel, barely adequate for training, is "not within a mile of being adequate for serious airline work." Some models have too much window for passenger comfort, some hardly any.

"In order to convert this aircraft for civilian use, say for an airline & assuming that the air frame and engines are airworthy by civilian flying standards, it will be necessary to remove all military equipment, which is largely obsolete, and useless except as junk, fit the cabin with seats and an insulated lining, install an adequate heat and ventilating system re-arrange and add to the pilot's instrument panels, including a whole new set for the co-pilot, install de-icers and up-to-date radio equipment. This is in addition to re-doping in some other color than "training yellow" and general prettying up. We have now spent several thousand dollars on this aging aircraft and what have we got?"

Eddie goes on to contrast this rather slow plane with a capacity of six or seven passengers with its well worn engines and equipment keeping maintenance costs up with some of the new post-war models capable of carrying bigger loads farther, faster and at a fraction of the cost for upkeep and maintenance.

Going on to consider the old Anson as a freighter or bush plane he points out that it was never designed for either wheels or floats and is therefore useless in the north. The cabin door, which cannot be enlarged with out seriously weakening the fuselage

Hints for the Household

SUPPER SET ON THE PONCH
WILL GIVE YOUR MENU EX-TRA APPEAL

Nowadays when the thermometer registers hot you can't cool off the family with a spin in the family car; but you can add appetite appeal to hot weather suppers by making it a regular custom to serve supper out of doors on the porch or in the back yard.

Individual pasteroles of spaghetti with tomato sauce and a bowl of crisp chilled salad make a satisfying hot weather supper menu that's easy to transport out-of-doors. Be sure to serve an abundance of chilled drinks to cater to thirsty tongues. It's a good idea too to brew caffeineless coffee as your supper beverage so that everyone can enjoy extra glasses without losing sleep later on.

Remember that to bring out its full coffee flavour you should "perk" it from 15 to 18 minutes if you make it in a percolator. You can make a rich and creamy iced beverage with out any cream if you pour warm milk on frozen de-caffeinated coffee cubes. Or you can give your chilled drink a topping of whipped cream by following a simple recipe calling for thin cream and granulated gelatin.

Porch Party Beverage

Freeze decaffeinated coffee in ice cube trays. Use double strength decaffeinated coffee made with two heaping tablespoons of decaffeinated coffee regular grind to each cup (½ pint) of water. Remember that decaffeinated coffee needs to percolate from 15 to 18 minutes to bring its rich coffee flavor. Fill glass with frozen decaffeinated coffee cubes structure, is not big enough to admit a decent size bale of furs, let alone a diamond drill or a double decker bus.

And what private flier who can afford a machine that burns 30 to 40 gallons of gas an hour is going to want an Anson?

By the time Eddie goes into the matter of salvage value—pieces of plywood held together by the world's strongest glue, odd lengths of steel tubing which would cost more to reclaim than manufacture in the first place, engines built in Coventry where no more spare parts or similar engines are being built—by that time you as a taxpayer will be practically helping to push the Anson onto a bon fire as the cheapest method of getting out from under a liability which has given good service and done its job.

then fill glass with warm milk. The resulting beverage gives the illusion of a generous cream quota.

How to Whip Light Cream

1 ½ teaspoons granulated gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1 cup light cream
Few grains salt

Place granulated gelatin in small bowl; add water and mix well. Heat over boiling water until gelatin is completely dissolved, stirring constantly. Remove from boiling water. Add cream and salt. Place in bowl of ice and water and whip immediately with rotary egg beater 5 to 7 minutes or until mixture begins to hold shape around side of bowl. Remove from ice water. Stir gently with spoon until smooth. Serve.

This whipped cream may be stored in refrigerator until needed. Mix thoroughly before using.

NOTE:—If desired, chill mixture in refrigerator instead of ice water. When mixture is thickened beat until light and fluffy. Return to refrigerator to set slightly. Before using stir with spoon.

* Cream 2 or 3 days old whips more quickly than fresh cream.

Watermelon Cocktail

2 cups watermelon balls
Fresh mint
Powdered sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
(Lemon juice and sugar may be omitted.)

With a vegetable cutter prepare small balls of bright pink watermelon. Sprinkle lightly with sugar and add lemon juice. Chill thoroughly. Fill glasses. Garnish with sprigs of fresh mint. A pretty fancy is to moisten the edge of each cocktail glass and invert in chopped mint before filling. This will leave a line of green adhering to the edge of the glass. The glass may be lined with sprigs of mint before the watermelon is put in.

The world's purest zinc is produced at Flin Flon, Manitoba, Canada. Men are still looking for a working plan to fit into, instead of for men fit to work the plan.

When a man starts off with "Here's what I would do," you can be pretty sure he hasn't done it.

There's nothing like a good laugh to frighten off trouble.

"It's better to be fifty than forty" said a man just turned that age "for forty is the old age of youth while fifty is the youth of old age"

Sleepers and Diners in "Home from the War" Specials

RESERVED FOR HEROES: Nobody looking at the smiles that wouldn't come off on these soldiers digging into a chicken dinner on a Canadian Pacific Railway diner or watching the reunion of this airman with the two-and-a-half-year-old son he had seen only as a new-born infant could complain about the switch-over of sleeping and dining cars from ordinary travel to speed the return of active service personnel from the war. In the two-day period when these pictures were taken (June 16-17), there were 2,000 servicemen handled through Montreal on seven C.P.R. trains.

URGENT SUPPORT FOR GROUP RIDING PLAN

Group riding should continue to receive the support of motorists, in the opinion of officials of the Alberta Motor Association. This is a war conservation measure that should be maintained and it would have good results even when peace is fully restored.

Many car owners now take advantage of the group riding plan. This means the alternating of passengers with one car owner operating his car for a week or more in carrying neighbors to and from their places of business or employment, while in the next period a member of the group provides his car.

The soundness of the practice has been widely commended. In various states south of the international bound-dary, the innovation has reached the state where its adoption is regarded as permanent. It results in much saving of fuel and tires, and that is essential even in peace time.

EMERGENCY

Never one to shirk responsibility, comedian ALAN YOUNG has announced his intention of operating for the international audience right through the summer months. Here he is in one of his many expert roles, that of Dr. Young, calling for eureka and sponge, while standing guard over a pretty patient. The Alan Young Show is heard over the CBC Dominion network, on Tuesdays, at 7:30 p.m. CDT.

ALL FROM ONE LISTENER

JOHN AVISON, conductor of some of the CBC's most popular programs from the west coast, is pictured here in his Vancouver home as he looks over a batch of fan mail. What makes this batch unique in radio is the fact that it is all from one listener. The letters, now mounting toward the 200 mark, are from a distinguished American lady. She and her husband have a comfortable country estate not far from Boston. Whenever the Boston Symphony and the CBR Concert Orchestra fall on the same evening, the two of them leave the symphony hall in Boston and motor home in time to hear John Avison's orchestra from Vancouver. The CBR Concert Orchestra directed by Avison, has just concluded its current series on the Trans-Canada network and will return after vacation in two or three weeks. Meanwhile, the young Vancouver conductor has begun a new program, Gateway Melody, over the Dominion network, Thursday nights at 9:30 CDT.

You will make your point more quickly with the other guy if you point your finger not at him but at yourself.

To correct your own faults is infinitely more useful than to uncover the faults of others.

Don't try to get the best of the other fellow. Try to bring out the best.

We don't dislike people who we know have faults. But those who know that we have.

Five of the 10 wooden minesweepers being supplied to Russia by Canada have already been launched while the other five are on the ways.

VERSATILE

LOU SNIDER, since his discharge from the R. C. A. F., has made up for time away from CBC studies by turning in his most versatile performances. He arranges and directs Concerts in Rhythm (Sundays, at 7:30 p.m. CDT) for CBC Dominion network listeners, and gives Saturday night audiences a fast and tenuous half-hour at 7:00 p.m. CDT on the same network with Pop Session.

GROWING SMALL FRUITS

We are pleased and proud to announce the publication of a bulletin entitled "Growing Small Fruits in the Prairie Provinces." It is illustrated with a series of admirable photographs most of which are by courtesy of the Division of Horticulture, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The subject matter was written by Mr. W. R. Leslie, Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Station, Morden, Manitoba. It deals with recommended varieties, cultural and harvesting methods, pests and diseases of strawberries, raspberries, currants, gooseberries, etc. Tree fruits, such as apples, plums and cherries, are not included; but will, we hope, be the subject of another bulletin to be published in the not too distant future.

Copies are available, free of charge, to farmers, and rural school teachers and pupils in the Prairie Provinces. They may be obtained through local Line Elevator agents, or from Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg or Calgary.

A Correction

In our article, "Production Objectives," published on February 15th, we endeavored to summarize the figures released by the Dominion Department of Agriculture following the Dominion-Provincial Conference. Under "increases," we quoted "cattle, 8%; calves, 10%." One of our correspondents points out that these particular figures relate to increased marketings rather than to production. He thinks that "the owners of cattle are generally of the opinion that production has reached a level in the prairies, where difficulties could easily arise—if extensive drought should occur."

Winnipeg, July 16.—J. Duff Guild, Saskatoon, agricultural agent, colonization and agricultural department, Canadian National Railways, has been appointed superintendent of agriculture for the western region with headquarters in Winnipeg. Mr. Guild, a native of Kenya, Ma., was supervisor of illustration stations for the Dominion Government Experimental Farm at Brandon, Man., before he joined the railway in November, 1927, as assistant agricultural agent at Winnipeg. In January, 1936, he was appointed agricultural agent, a veteran of World War I, and a member of the air force. Mr. Guild enlisted in the R. C. A. F. in January, 1940. He returned to the railway in January, 1943, as agricultural agent at Montreal, and in April of the same year was transferred to Saskatoon in a similar capacity, where he remained until his present appointment.

Winnipeg, July 26.—Paul Davoud, D.S.O., O.B.E., D.F.C., formerly group captain in the R. C. A. F., and prominent in northern flying, has been appointed operations assistant to the vice president of Trans-Canada Air Lines it was announced today by W. F. English, vice president.

Mr. Davoud's headquarters will be in Winnipeg.

Before going to England in 1932 where he spent three years with the Royal Air Force, Mr. Davoud attended Royal Military College, at Kingston, and Queen's University. In 1935 he became engaged in northern flying and through the transport of mining, fishing and trapping supplies, played a large part in the development of the north, especially down the Mackenzie River Valley. During this time he became connected with the Hudson's Bay Company and in 1938 was appointed supervisor of transport in the fur department of that organization.

In 1940, Mr. Davoud joined the R. C. A. F. where he enjoyed a varied colorful career. He was chief flying instructor at the Central Flying Training School at Trenton, and later was placed in command of a night fighter squadron in England. From June, 1943 to January 1944 he commanded the City of Edmonton intruder squadron, flying Mosquitoes. On leaving the RCAF, he commanded a Canadian fighter-bomber wing in the 2nd Tactical Air Force.

Mr. Davoud's appointment is in line with TCA's policy of rehabilitation in connection with repatriated RCAF personnel and with the expansion program of the company planned for the future.

SEARLE RAINFALL MAP FROM APRIL 1st TO JUNE 11th, 1945

It will be observed from the accompanying map that there are quite large areas in Saskatchewan and Alberta which are badly deficient in moisture at this present moment. It is to be remembered, however, that so far the crop is not suffering, for the young plants do not begin to draw heavily on the moisture until about June 30th. The map shows the distribution of this growing season rainfall only. If, however, we add to this the reserve moisture of last fall for stubble seeded crops and also the reserves of the previous summer and the fall before that for crops seeded on summerfallow, we find that the total moisture condition for Alberta is now 78% of normal, compared with 76% a year ago. For Saskatchewan it is now 86% of normal, compared with 97% a year ago. For Manitoba it is now 119% of normal, compared with 104% a year ago. Combining the three provinces together we estimate the total moisture condition to be 86% of normal, compared with 92% at this time a year ago.

Do You know

Oddly enough it takes a warm sick certainly won't cure the world

A religion that makes people look sick certainly won't cure the world. If we are out for ourselves first it should not surprise us if those who represent us in politics do not place themselves last.

Problem children come from parents who have no answer for their own lives.

Successful thinking gets others to think likewise. But constructive thinking gets them to think soundly.

Our mistakes can only be profitable when we've paid back what they cost the other fellow.

Their fearless dying can only be rewarded by our fearless living.

The only people to get even with are those who have helped you.

The Canadian Prices Board has worked out a plan, in co-operation with the tailoring trade, to ensure that demobilized personnel may purchase suits without delay after their discharge.

MEN FOR HOME BUILDING MUST BE SECURED

Home building is highly essential to overcome pressing housing shortages, and to provide dwellings for the Forces as discharged.

Shortages of workers for building homes and for producing the building materials are threatening to impede Canada's program for the construction of 50,000 homes as soon as possible.

All men experienced in home building or in producing building materials, who are not now working in either of these industries, are urged to apply to the nearest office of the National Employment Service immediately.

Men experienced at home building or producing supplies, if now in other essential work, will be given permits to work at jobs which will assist the home building program.

All men, not now at home building nor producing supplies, who can fill a job in this program, are urged to answer this call.

Apply at once at the nearest office of the National Employment Service.
